SOLDIER BONUS BILL PASSED BY HOUSE

GROVER BERGDOLL, LOW IN FUNDS, TO RETURN TO PRISON

Famous Slacker Agrees To Return From Germany For Punishment.

DISCLOSURES TO FOLLOW ARRIVAL

Promise To Surrender Is Given American Legion Representative.

New York, March 18.—Low in funds and ready to expose those who aided his sensational escape, Grover Cleveland Bergdoll is preparing to return to the United States, Norman Hazgood editor of Hearst's International magazine, declared today following receipt of a cablegram from a representative in Berlin.

The announcement came in connection with an article appearing in the 23rd issue of the magazine issued today, written by Leighton Blood who declares he went to Germany as a representative of the American Legion and with the approval of the state department, and obtained Bergdoll's promise to surrender.

Bergdoll is now in Berlin waiting for Bergdoll to wind up his affairs. He will bring Bergdoll back, Hazgood said, on a ship sailing soon.

Sensational disclosures in connection with the escape of Bergdoll may be expected immediately upon the slacker's arrival here. Blood states in the magazine article:

Bergdoll's escape in April, 1920, Blood says was "one of the best arranged affairs in the history of America." Those responsible for it, the article states, were "men high in the confidence of their government."

Agree To Return

After several conferences with Bergdoll at Eberbach, according to Blood's account, Bergdoll agreed to return to the United States.

Only the closing up of his affairs, it is said, holds up the departure. Bergdoll has collected a quantity of scientific instruments which cannot be taken out of Germany and must be disposed of and has leased several game preserves in Baden that he must liquidate, Blood declares.

The chief motive behind Bergdoll's abandonment of his exile, according to Blood, is the pinched condition of his finances. The funds he took with him on his flight were soon dissipated, the article said, and the government's seizure and retention of more than $75,000 worth of his property deprived him of an income of approximately $10,000 a week.

But coming here he was told he could serve his sentence, receive back his property and live his life in peace.

Behind the mission of Blood to Eberbach, the article says are Lemuel B. Bell, national adjutant of the American Legion, and Garland W. Powell, director of the Legion's Americanism commission.

NATION WATCHING DAKOTA ELECTION

LaFollette's Friends Write His Name On Ballot Despite Ruling.

Fargo, N. D., March 18.—North Dakota claimed the attention of the nation today as its voters furnished an index to midwestern sentiment and the first Republican contest with their ballots in the presidential primary election.

President Coolidge and Senator Hiram Johnson appeared on the Republican ballots with the contest admittedly tightened up by the determination of supporters of Senator Robert LaFollette to keep their leader in the returns, despite his request, supported by supreme court decree, that his name be left off the ticket.

Two hundred thousand "stickers" with LaFollette's name have been printed and distributed throughout the state and voters, particularly among the non-partisan ranks, have been requested to write the Wisconsin senator's name on their ballots or paste LaFollette's stickers thereon.

KILLS HIS WIFE AND HIMSELF IN SON'S PRESENCE

Middleton, N. H., March 18.—John Burk, 55, carpenter, this morning shot and killed his wife, Elizabeth, aged 44, then blew the top of his head off with a .38 calibre revolver. His son Raymond, aged 8, witnessed the double tragedy.

The child said that while his mother was preparing breakfast the parents were quarrelling but the argument ended when Burk pulled a gun and fired three times, bullets entering each breast of the wife and one entering the head.

Two shots fired in quick succession sufficed to blow Burk's skull to pieces.

Mrs. Roger Cutler, heiress to the Bradley fertilizer millions and wife of the captain of the winning Harvard crew of 1911, has been elected a member of the town board of North Andover, Mass., the first woman so named. She has always been interested in civic affairs.

Murders Three, Burns House To Hide Crime

Robber Confesses He Shot Man And Wife, Killed Another With Axe.

Batavia, N. Y., March 18.—The mystery surrounding the triple killing of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Whalley and Mabel Morse at Linden last Tuesday was cleared up today when Sheriff Ware announced John Vetoski had confessed the crime.

Vetoski, according to Sheriff Ware, related the following story: On the day of the murder, he, Vetoski, was walking along the Erie railroad tracks that run south of the Whalley home. He said he was short of money and seeing the little Whalley house on the hill decided to rob it. He gained entrance through the rear cellarway and had found pocket books containing money in the living rooms when Whalley came in the front door.

Vetoski said that he fired at Whalley and missed. He chased Whalley about the house, and finally cornered him in the pantry, where the fatal shot was fired.

Mrs. Whalley came in the house a few minutes later and Vetoski killed her with the first bullet.

Having killed them, Vetoski decided to burn the cottage in an effort to conceal his crime. He had dragged Mrs. Whalley's body into the living room and was pulling Whalley's body there when Mrs. Morse entered the room.

Vetoski decided he would have to kill Mrs. Morse in the fear that she would identify him with the crimes he already committed.

There were no more cartridges in his revolver. He told her with a blow with his fist. He found a pick axe handle and crushed Mrs. Morse's skull with the handle before she had recovered consciousness from the first blow.

Vetoski then dragged her body to a place near where he had placed the bodies of the Whalleys. He covered them with rugs and sprinkled them with oil.

After firing the rugs and leaving the cottage in the belief that its smoking ruins would hide the crimes, Vetoski wandered about the country, living in barns and stealing food.

He was arrested yesterday when he applied for work on a farm.

LEGION LEADER ADMITS HELP IS GIVEN BERGDOLL

Cincinnati, March 18.—John R. Quinn, national commander of the American Legion, on a visit here today declared the American Legion of Toledo aided its aid to Grover Cleveland Bergdoll "because it is our duty to do so."

The Legion commander verified the report that a representative of the organization had been sent to urge Bergdoll to return.

He emphatically denied that the Legion was guilty of attempt to kidnap Bergdoll and felt that any suspicion could be cleared of any suspicion in the matter by seeking to inform him to come back of his own free will.

He announced he would issue a formal statement when he returned to the Legion headquarters.

Mah Jonggitis Very Latest Fashionable Disease Discovered

Columbus, March 18.—The Mah Jongg rash has made its appearance among the fashionable diseases.

Dr. Charles J. Shephard reports that he has treated several persons for Mah Jonggitis, a sort of skin disease which the physician attributes to the handling of the cheaper sets of imported tiles used in the Chinese game.

Dies used in coloring the tiles are sometimes made of a plant called Rhus Venix. Dr. Shephard says, which is kirk and kin to the well-known and highly unpopular poison ivy. Some persons are susceptible to it, others are not.

A redness of the Mah Jongg fingers is the first symptom, then small blisters appear. It isn't very severe at any stage.

YOUTH ARRESTED FOR STABBING AS HIS VICTIM DIES

Cleveland, March 18.—Henry Stremphowski, 16, was arrested at his home by police today, charged with first degree murder, as the result of the death of Edmund Bonowski, 23, who died a few hours previously, as the result, police say, of stab wounds inflicted by the boy five months ago.

Bonowski, police reports show, was escorting a girl along Harvard avenue, when a crowd of boys, of which Stremphowski was one, made insulting remarks. Bonowski engaged in an altercation, kicking one of them, and was stabbed.

Stremphowski was arrested, arraigned in juvenile court, but released when he promised to pay Bonowski's hospital bill.

Bonowski's death changed the status and a murder charge was made.

Overrules Motion In Ouster Chief Case

Columbus, March 18.—State supreme court today overruled a motion for an order directing the court of appeals of Belmont county to certify its record in the case of Michael Davis of Bellaire vs. John R. Wyatt.

Davis was removed as chief of police November 29 last by Mayor Wyatt on a number of charges including incompetency and neglect and his removal has been sustained by the state civil service commission.

Delinquents' Water Supply Is Shut Off

Service Director F. A. Rinehart Monday started workmen out over the city to shut off all delinquent payers of water bills from the city supply.

It costs the customer $1 to have the water turned on again after the bill is paid, he states, and he urges all to pay up before the men make the complete rounds. As many as possible will be shut off each day until all delinquents have no water.

WEEKS AND MELLON SUMMONED TO GIVE PROBE TESTIMONY

Secretary Of War Will Be Quizzed Concerning Aircraft Board.

WITHDRAWALS OF LIQUOR ALSO UP

Committee Delves Deeper Into Transportation Of Fight Films.

Washington, March 18.—In a stormy session frequently featured by shouting and charges of evasion, the Daugherty investigation committee drew from Wm. A. Orr, of New York, today a highly picturesque story of how thousands of dollars changed hands among friends of Attorney General Daugherty for their efforts in getting "whiskey permits" through the prohibition bureau.

As has been the case with most of the previous testimony, the attorney general himself was not directly accused of being connected with these various "deals" but always testimony involved the men around him who accounted themselves "close."

Washington, March 18.—Investigation of Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty took another sensational turn today when it was announced by Senator Wheeler, Democrat, of Montana, that subpoenas had been issued for two members of President Coolidge's cabinet—Secretary of War John W. Weeks and Secretary of Treasury Andrew W. Mellon.

The committee understood to want to question Weeks concerning the Standard Aircraft case, in which Gaston B. Means has testified he received $100,000 in thousand dollar bills from a "mysterious Jap" and turned the money over to Jesse W. Smith.

Mellon is to be questioned, it was said, concerning liquor withdrawal permits. Means having testified last week that he investigated the Secretary of the Treasury for President Harding and "got him."

The committee today started to dig deeper into the alleged conspiracy to transport and exhibit the Dempsey-Carpenter fight films, calling Wm. A. Orr, former secretary to Gov. Whitman of New York, as the first witness. Orr testified he owned 20 per cent. of the picture rights.

The committee at the same time announced it had also subpoenaed Major Roy Haynes, chief of the prohibition unit; David Blair, head of the internal revenue bureau; H. H. Votaw, brother-in-law of the late President Harding and superintendent of federal prisons; Elmer Dover, former assistant of the treasury, and three special assistant attorneys general, John W. H. Crim, Henry W. Anderson and Addna R. Johnston, Jr.

Other subpoenas were issued for Arthur Robb, chief file clerk in the department of justice; Alfred R. Union and Henry K. Union, Washington attorneys; Arthur Sixsmith, treasury department official, and James A. Finch, pardon clerk in the department of justice.

KING WILL URGE STATE HATCHERY

Plans Trip To Columbus To Confer With Agriculture Committee.

John L. King, of Salem, president of the Columbiana County Fish and Game association, was named a delegate from the Salem branch at the special meeting Monday night, to go to Columbus in the near future to confer with the state advisory board relative to the establishment of the proposed state fish hatchery at Gaidford dam.

Director of Agriculture Truxax recently in a public statement said that his department would give the state at least one, and possibly two hatcheries this year, and county sportsmen are urging that the hatchery be the one in this county, promised by Gov. Donahay twice, and by his department heads several times, but which has not reached the formative stage as yet, although the lease on the land was purchased.

King will meet with the advisory committee of the agriculture department, and will find out the plans of the committee relative to the hatchery. The date of the meeting has not been set, although King has wired for a meeting.

GERMAN VESSEL OWNERS DENIED DAMAGE CLAIMS

Washington, March 18.—The United States court of claims today dismissed a suit by the Hamburg American, North German Lloyd and other German shipping companies against this government to recover $350,000, on account of German vessels seized in American ports at the outbreak of the war.

Twenty-nine corporations were parties to the suit, which was thrown out by the court in sustaining the government's demurrer.

DOUBLE CROSSED BY HIS HOLD UP FRIENDS HE SAYS

Steubenville, March 18.—After a severe grilling by police, Clarence Snodgrass, 25, driver for the Butte Laundry Co. of this city, today admitted, police say, having planned the "hold-up" in which he was bound and gagged by three men on a lonely road south of here last Friday night.

Snodgrass admitted having hired three negroes to stage the "chicknap" but told the police his "hold up" friends double crossed him and made their getaway with the $300.

Slacker's Mother Is Silent On Reports

Philadelphia, March 18.—Without official confirmation of her son's reported intention of leaving Germany and surrendering himself to United States authorities for draft lodging, and advised by her attorneys to maintain silence until the report was definite, Mrs. Emma C. Bergdoll, mother of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, had nothing to say today regarding published accounts that the draft dodger was making arrangements to sail for America and give himself up.

PLANES GET TEST IN FIRST LAP OF WORLD-WIDE TRIP

Army Fliers Hop Off Again On 5,508-Mile Flight To Eugene, Ore.

BULLETIN

Mather Field, Sacramento, Cal., March 18.—The United States army aerial globe trotters took to the air at 9:28 a. m. today, on the second hop of their 3,000 mile cruise around the world.

They will stop over tonight at Eugene, Oregon, and tomorrow jump to Seattle to prepare for the overseas flight.

Mather Field, Sacramento, Cal., March 18.—Today's course in the epochal flight of the army's world-circling Douglas cruisers was suddenly altered early today to make Eugene, Ore., the objective instead of Portland.

Major F. L. Martin, commander of the flight, arriving at the field as the planes were being run out of the hangars, brought first word of the change in plans, made with a view to averting unnecessary fatigue by long jumps, the commander of the expedition said.

The fourth "round the world" airplane is scheduled to reach Mather Field here about noon, according to telegraphic information received early today.

Th delayed plane, piloted by Lieut. Erik Nelson, will stop over tonight at Sacramento and fly to Portland, Ore., tomorrow, according to present plans, then jumping from Portland to Seattle, where it will join its sister ships.

Gets Severe Test. Fully equipped for the second jump in the spectacular cruise, the three Douglas army planes which landed here yesterday were run out of their hangars at daybreak today and tuned up.

Fiery Crosses Blaze Forth In Five Towns

Wheeling, W. Va., March 19.—Fiery crosses flared out all around Wheeling on the hilltops last night. Initiations were held in Wheeling, Elko Grove and McMechen, W. Va., and at Martins Ferry and Bellaire, O. In the five towns, it was stated, a total of 2,000 were naturalized last night by the order.

State Liquor Enforcement Largely A Money Grabbing Effort Says Toledo Judge

Columbus, March 18.—"State enforcement of the liquor laws is too largely a money grabbing effort by men whose motives are altogether sordid and whose processes are brutal, destructive and utterly regardless of the fundamental rights of the people they attack," Judge John M. Killits of the United States district court at Toledo, charged in a letter received by Gov. Donahay and Atty. Gen. Crabbe today.

Magistrates and enforcement officers in Lucas county are the direct recipients of Judge Killits' attack, but objects of Judge Killits' attack, he calls upon every functionary in the state to aid in ending outrages upon law and decency.

"I have in my hands the evidence which tends directly and strongly to convict state officers of this country for the violation of the Ohio criminal statute which provides a penalty of from one to 29 years imprisonment for transactions which I can affirm with safety have been indulged in by magistrates and their special constables in Lucas county on many occasions and which will be repeated in the future unless state authority steps in to prevent," Judge Killits wrote.

Neither Gov. Donahay nor Atty. Gen. Crabbe commented upon the charges today, but were contemplating action, they said.

Paiding of cost bills so as to provide sufficient fees for all enforcement officers and magistrates concerned, the issuance by magistrates of blank warrants, contrary to law, brutal and destructive raids upon private homes, and discrimination in enforcing the law are some of the instances Judge Killits cited.

"A decent respect for the sanctity of homes," he said, "and regard for the liberty of all our people and for the law itself unite to demand that magistrates who are guilty of these things should be prosecuted for extortion and be removed from office, and that if in any completed instance, the mass of fraudulent record can be destroyed, the magistrate and the officers affected should be prosecuted under the forgery section."

BILL SENT TO SENATE AFTER SHORT DEBATE

"Tombstone" Measure Upheld As Best Legislation Ever Presented.

ONLY 40 MINUTES GIVEN TO DEBATE

Opponents Argue That Tax Reduction Is Much More Important.

BULLETIN

Washington, March 18.—Defying President Coolidge and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, the House of Representatives today passed the new soldiers' bonus bill and sent it along to the Senate.

Only 40 minutes were permitted for debate on the bill before the final vote was taken, but in that short time the measure was upheld by ex-service men in the House as the "best adjusted compensation legislation that had been presented to Congress," and attacked by friends of the administration on the ground that "tax reduction was more important now than the bonus."

Unlike the bonus bill vetoed by President Harding, in 1921, the new measure did not provide for extensive cash payments to the veterans, but made provision for the issuance of 20-year endowment paid up insurance policies in lieu of cash.

Veterans whose service would not net them more than $50 at the rate of $1 a day for domestic service and $1.25 a day for overseas service will be the only ones who will receive cash under the bill as passed by the House.

The insurance policies to be issued to the others will have an average value of $600 and they will be taken as collateral for loans two years after issuance.

The estimated cost of the bill is a little over $2,000,000,000.

Washington, March 18.—Described by its opponents as a "tombstone bonus" because a soldier must die to get his money or wait 20 years for the maturity of his insurance policy, the new soldiers' bonus bill was taken up by the house today, under a rule which assured its passage during the afternoon.

Sixty congressmen were counted this morning in opposition to the bill as reported by the ways and means committee. They are against the legislation on principle and because they fear the effect of national finances.

Leaders in the opposition are Mills of New York, Treadway of Massachusetts, Hawley of Oregon, and Watson of Pennsylvania, all Republicans and staunch supporters of President Coolidge who has declared himself against a bonus which does not provide a means of financing itself.

The adoption of the "bag rule" for the consideration of the bonus requires the consent of two thirds of the members present to pass the bill. Indications pointed to an attendance of approximately 400 when the vote is taken and about 135 votes would be necessary to block the passage. The opposition cannot muster half that number.

Only 20 minutes were allowed for a vote, although this closure would be abandoned by unanimous consent. The "bag rule" permits no changes in the legislation by way of amendment and it must be defeated or passed as it stands.

There has been some complaint against the house leaders for taking (Continued on eighth page.)

Another European War Is Inevitable Asserts Novelist

Cleveland, March 18.—With "France busy night and day building new airplanes, Germany experimenting with new kinds of poison gas, and Italy also striving for aerial supremacy, another European war is inevitable, according to Shaw Desmond, novelist, in Cleveland today.

Desmond, who has recently returned from Europe, added: "The next war will be a chemical war and will be only one of a chain of European wars that will ultimately destroy civilization there unless a miracle intervenes."

FLAMES DAMAGE FIFTH ST. HOUSE TUESDAY MORNING

Roof Of K.L. Webster Home Badly Damaged; Sparks Start Blaze.

Two more fires in the last 24 hours caused considerable damage in Salem.

At 5:52 a. m. Tuesday sparks falling on the shingle roof of the Karl Webster home, 51 East Fifth st., ignited a large portion of the roof before it was discovered by a passerby, who notified the Websters.

The west portion of the roof had to be chopped away by firemen, to extinguish the blaze, which, quickly spread to all parts of the roof. Only chemicals were used and only a small amount of damage was caused in the attic, the blaze being confined mostly to the shingles and rafters.

It looked at first like it might be a repetition of the disastrous Almain fire Sunday and all three trucks were ordered to the scene. The damage will amount to several hundred dollars, as a new roof will have to be put on.

About 8 p. m. Monday firemen were called to the property owned by William Fisher, Roosevelt ave., where a coal shed in the rear of the house was blazing, started from an undetermined origin. There was very little loss.

DELAY IS SOUGHT IN BRIBERY CASES

Ritchie Hearing Scheduled For Thursday; Others Not Fixed.

Mayor Schaeffer announced Tuesday that attorneys for John Retz, Teofil Andrei and Martin Gardner asked that their trials on charges of transportation and manufacture of whiskey, and bribery of Constable Earl Ritchie be postponed until late this week, or the first part of next week. No date has been set now for the hearings.

Ritchie, arrested for accepting the bribe of three men for protection from arrest while making booze, will be arraigned Thursday on the bribe charge, and also for transporting whiskey. His case has caused the greatest interest, because of the fact that he was a state prohibition officer at the time he is charged by Chief of Police Thompson with accepting the bribe and delivering the whiskey to a certain party. It is not known which charge will be pressed first at the hearing.

Mayor Schaeffer can hear all cases, and has final jurisdiction on the booze charges, but can only give a preliminary hearing on the bribery charges. If sufficient evidence is found to hold the men on the bribe charges, they will be bound over to the grand jury.

Holds Card Agents Arrests Are Legal

Taxi Drivers Strike Is Blow To Business

Paris, March 18.—Department store losses were estimated at 4,000 francs today as the result of a one-day strike of taxi-cab chauffeurs. The drivers protested against an increase in fares which, they claim, led to smaller business.

If You Need a Medicine You Should Have the Best

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system, the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it.

A prominent druggist says: "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact, so many people claim, that it fulfills almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder ailments, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by Parcel Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention this paper. Large and medium size bottles for sale at all drug stores.

American Pastimes

APPARENTLY one of our favorite American pastimes is manslaughter. There were 538 cases of homicide in the last 12 months in Manhattan Borough, New York city. It doesn't look much like the crime wave was subsiding. There was a time when homicide was fashionable in the west, when the two-gun man played on the plains and hoisted his trusty weapon only when he had used up all of his ammunition and the streets of the cow town looked like an abattoir!

Those days have passed and now the surest known way of being pinched in Texas is to own a 22 or vote the Republican ticket. There are still some 46s preserved in the museums north of the Rio Grande, but the children have to be told what they are. Most of those not reposing in museums have found their way to Hollywood, where they adorn the persons of our sole remaining western bad men.

Westward the course of our empire took its way, but eastward watched the gun-toting fashion, while only here and there a western or mid-western oasis of violence has been left to remind us of the days when a man was not complete unless he was a walking artillery train. Perpetrated gun carriages were a common sight, but now we have only the bootlegger left.

New York does not seem to have awakened to the fact that the days of private war over, that there is such a thing as law and its occasional enforcement, that human life is held more or less sacred in civilized countries and that there are other methods of settling disputes than by an automatic injection of lead into the person of one of the disputants. Some day, perhaps, when we cease to regard murder as a recreation and homicide as a sport and realize our disparoval of these pastimes by electrocuting some of their devotees, we may lessen their popularity and make life just as safe as the ordinary law-abiding citizen as it now is for the murderer. Apparently murder is an assurance of longevity for the murderer.

Spending Our Money

ON the 15th of this month the unfortunate taxpayer had brought home to him the fact that in the eyes of the average congressman, and especially of the Democratic congressman, the welfare of the plain, ordinary taxpayer is of no consequence as compared with the political success of the congressman. In vain did President Coolidge in a special message appeal to congress to pass a simple resolution which would have reduced by 25 per cent before March 15 the income tax of probably 100,000,000 of taxpayers. The Democrats would not permit it. They feared too great political advantage for the Republican party. Had there been unanimous consent, the resolution could easily have been passed, but if the Democrats were to oppose objections the time would be too short. And the Democrats did. Presumably there will be tax-reduction at this session, but everyone had to pay the full rates March 15, because the Democrats deliberately blocked immediate reduction.

But members of congress, Republicans and Democrats alike, are preparing to rush through a bonus bill which will cost the country more than $2,000,000,000. And unless President Coolidge vetoes it, and possibly if he does, that bill will become law. Why? Because, primarily, congressmen believe it will make votes for themselves to pass the measure, think that the ex-soldiers who would benefit by the bonus will work hard for the reelection of those who voted for the bonus bill, whereas the general taxpayer, while approving a reduction of the income tax, would not take off his coat and vote for the reelection of the men who made such reduction possible.

Among the strange birds, beasts, and fish discovered in Brazil are vampire bats, flat fish with a poison spine in their tails, and vultures which make noises very like dogs barking.

PERFECTS LOUD SPEAKER TO SAY PAPA AND MAMA

New York, March 18.—Have you a little loud speaker in your home? If so, don't be surprised in the future to hear it calling, plaintively, "Papa," or "Mama."

Loud speakers have already done so in the laboratory of Dr. Harvey Fletcher, radio engineer, who has devoted much time to improving tonal qualities in this important part of radiophonic equipment. Sounds closely resembling vowels, as uttered by human vocal chords, have been achieved by operation of variometers, vacuum tube oscillator, amplifier and tuned circuits.

Many of the sounds which seem to emanate from the loud speaker actually are present only as overtones or harmonies, Dr. Fletcher explains, the fundamental sometimes not being present at all. Especially is this true where exceptionally low tones, such as two octaves below "middle C" on the piano are reproduced.

Leap Year Candidate Wants Ideal Husband

London, March 18.—Marjorie Gordon, one of London's "leading ladies," says she intends to exercise her Leap Year privilege. But at the same time she makes qualifications.

"Only ideal men are in danger," she states. "My man must be a combination of Nick Ratchiffe, Bernard Shaw, John Galsworthy, Algernon Blackwood, a center-forward of a first-rate football league team, and an income-tax collector."

"He must have a sense of humor, but good looks are not essential. So you see my choice is limited—with all due respect to the men."

EIGHT OFFICIALS DEALT IN STOCKS COMMITTEE HEARS

Names Of Semp, Daugherty, Elkins And Others Found On Books.

Washington, March 18.—Eight federal officials, including a cabinet member, two senators and C. Bascom Semp, secretary to President Coolidge, were found to have dealt in oil stocks, their names being discovered on the books of brokerage concerns in Washington, Cleveland and New York, it was disclosed today to the senate oil committee by Lewis D. Bond, chief accountant for the federal trade commission, who for a month has been going over the books of various brokers.

The names reported to the committee by bond were: Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty, Secretary C. Bascom Semp, Senator Davis Elkins, Republican of West Virginia; Senator Charles Curtis, Republican of Kansas; Representative Arthur B. Rouse, Democrat of Kentucky; Representative Thomas J. Ryan, Republican of New York; Representative Wells Goodkuntz, Republican of West Virginia; Representative Joseph H. Himes, Republican of Ohio. The last three named retired from Congress last session. Semp's transactions took place before he became secretary to President Coolidge, bond said, and while he was still a member of Congress from Virginia.

Daugherty dealt both in his own name and in the account of W. W. Spald, a partner of William Hibbs, of Hibbs and Co., Washington, bond reported. He said "indications were that Spald's account was that of Jesse W. Smith." Smith's name, however, did not appear on the books.

Some of the dealings were reported by bond as follows:

On Feb. 23, 1922, Senator Curtis bought 100 shares of Sinclair Consolidated Oil Corporation stock.

Daugherty realized a profit on 100 shares of stock of the Pan-American Petroleum Co., owned by E. L. Doherty, lessee of Elk Hills reserve.

On June 23, 1922, Semp bought and sold 1,000 shares of Mexican Seaboard, a Sinclair subsidiary, realizing a profit of $1,434. He also made a profit of $581 on Mexican Petroleum.

Elkins had extensive stock dealings from March 17, 1922, to April 9, 1923, though J. P. Benard and Co., New York, in that period, he bought 7,700 shares of Sinclair Consolidated at a cost of $202,350 and sold 7,700 shares for $277,924 and took 1,000 shares for delivery on May 24, 1922. He lost in deals in Sinclair Consolidated through Harriman and Co., from May, 1922, to November 24, 1922.

Bond said he had not found an account in the name of "Will Hays" on the books of Ungerleider and Co., Cleveland.

DONAHEY PARDONS TWO BOOTLEGGERS

Columbus, March 18.—The first prisoners pardoned from a workhouse by Gov. Donahey since his inauguration are free today: Ham Mobley, Coshocton, held in the Canton workhouse since September 1 in default of $500 fine for illegal possession of liquor, and Mike Rusawich, Massillon, in the same workhouse since August 14 for a similar cause, were released yesterday upon an order from the governor.

Mobley's pardon was granted on the recommendation of Mayor Tich, Coshocton, who sentenced him. Chief of Police Duling, Sheriff Barr, and City Solicitor Daugherty. Rusawich was recommended for pardon by Judge C. B. Alser, trial judge in his case, and Prosecutor McDonald. State prohibition Commissioner McDonald recommended clemency in both cases.

Gov. Donahey stated that the pardons were not due to any plan for wholesale release of bootleggers. He stated that, despite the numerous requests for pardoning liquor law violators, he will require endorsements from the state prohibition commissioner, the trial judge in the case and the prosecution before granting clemency in such cases.

U. S. FIRE LOSS IN YEAR LISTED AT HALF MILLION

New York, March 18.—Fire losses in the United States in 1922, totaling $506,541,001, exceeded by millions the amount of the nation's personal income tax receipts for the year, and a report issued today by the national board of fire underwriters.

The careless smoker again was found to be the cause of the greatest number of fires, the board holding him responsible for a toll of $25,776,951. Defective chimneys and flues caused the next greatest loss, $18,550,433. Fires originating in boilers, stoves and furnaces caused a $16,676,784 loss, spontaneous combustion $14,594,799, electricity $11,918,572, sparks on roofs $11,075,719, and lightning $11,513,725.

The recorded losses, the report explained, totaled $405,232,801, the total for the year being reached with the addition of 25 per cent. as representing unreported fires and those involving uninsured property.

Relics of Famous Massacre.

HOLD WOMAN FOR PROBATE COURT

Charge That East Liverpool Woman Failed To Give Children Clothing.

Lisbon, March 18.—Mrs. Jennie Beaver of East End, Liverpool, permitted her two little children, Helen, aged seven years and Mildred, aged three years to roam about in cold weather with only a "slip" to cover them, a witness testified, when the woman was being given a hearing before Probate Judge Lodge Kiddle Monday.

She was charged with leaving her children alone all night and with failure to provide them with proper food and clothing.

The woman was brought into court some days ago by Probation Officer John McShane of East Liverpool and was to have been released a few days later. She was released without bond for the time set for the trial and that she would go home. The court believing her statement allowed her to return to her home. But she failed to do so. Her husband made inquiry about her, and when officers were told that she was not at home a search for her resulted. She was found in a house on Union st., East Liverpool, and she was returned to Lisbon and placed in the county jail to await a hearing Monday.

Numerous witnesses were examined, and the woman was remanded to jail where she will remain until the court can determine what is the best to do for her.

Her husband is not in the best of health and the children, the court contends, are in urgent need of attention.

DEMAND FOR CARS SETS NEW RECORD

More Than 349,000 Autos And Trucks Produced In February.

Detroit, Mich., March 18.—With the official opening of spring, just three days away, the industry finds itself in excellent shape to handle the business done in any quarter of any previous year.

Opinion here is unanimous that this spring will be the greatest the automobile industry has ever seen. Production thus far has run 35 per cent ahead of the corresponding period of 1923, and for the first quarter is expected to approximate 1,000,000 automobiles.

If schedules for the second quarter are carried out, production during the coming period will approximate 1,400,000 automobiles. The output in the first half, therefore, may be close to 5,200,000. This would nearly equal the production for the entire year of 1922.

Proof of the unbounded prosperity in the motor center is seen in production figures for February. Following are February production figures of some of the leading companies: Ford, 167,141; Chevrolet, 55,467; Dodge, 26,434; Buick, 18,504; Hudson, Essex, 13,670; Studebaker, 12,000. Total production for February was 349,141 cars and trucks.

This is 26 per cent more than the total for February, 1922. Mild weather, which has prevailed in many parts of the country, served as a great stimulus to trade.

Prices continue to show an upward trend, three more makers having advanced prices during the week. Three or four more price changes are expected before the first of the month, when the price situation is expected to be firm.

Mountain Has 20,000 Deer

Despite the isolated and inaccessible character of Kaibab plateau of northern Arizona, it is one of the most beautiful in the United States, and it is in fact a mountain with 20,000 deer.

Nowhere else in the United States can the same number of deer be found in an equal area, says the Detroit News.

The game preserve is thirty-five to forty-five miles in extent, and the deer are free to roam throughout this immense territory. Its isolation has helped the government to keep the hunters away. When the preserve was established in 1906 it was estimated that the area contained about 3,000 deer. An estimate made by representatives of the United States biological survey and forest service in 1923, after an extensive survey of the area, places the present number at 20,000.

This high, flat-topped mountain, sometimes called Buckskin mountain, but better known as Kaibab mountain, flanks the Grand canyon on the north.

What He Asked For

Huggins considered himself a very smart fellow—distinctly witty, in fact—and he never lost an opportunity of using what he called his "gift."

One day he was strolling down High street when he saw a notice in a shop window, which ran: "If you don't see what you want in the window come inside."

"I don't see what I want in the window," he said.

"Well, then, ask for it," said the shopkeeper.

"Well," went on the wit, "I have found so many smart men in this town that I am in search of a first-class idiot."

Without hesitation the proprietor turned to his assistant with the order: "James, bring a large sheet of paper and some string, and make this gentleman up into a neat parcel."

Find Ponce de Leon's Kin In Florida.

Mary Ramondine Ponce of St. Augustine, Fla., takes a leading part in the annual Ponce de Leon celebration there. She is believed to be the first actual descendant of Ponce de Leon to be found in this country. By tracing ancient records in Seville, Spain, and with the help of the Historical Society of St. Augustine, Miss Ponce's ancestors were found to have possessed lands ceded to them by the Spanish crown. In 1824 the family disposed of these holdings.

Daugherty Sends Warning Letter To Theater Operator.

Washington, March 18.—Continuing his defense against charges that he participated in a conspiracy to exhibit pirate films in the United States, Attorney General Daugherty today made public a letter indicating his intention to imprison anyone who tried to transport or exhibit pictures of the Dempsey-Firpo fight.

The letter was from John P. Harris, a theater operator at Pittsburg, who had planned to show the Dempsey-Firpo pictures until blocked by the department of justice.

In a letter to the committee explaining his reasons for wanting certain witnesses subpoenaed, Daugherty declared that Roxie Stinson, divorced wife of Smith, had offered to "sell" her silence to him for $10,000 and later dropped her price to $50,000, all of which offers were refused. The negotiations for her silence, Daugherty said, were carried on in Cleveland last month, at which time the Stinson woman and A. L. Fink, of Buffalo, were registered at the Hollenden Hotel as man and wife. Fink acted as her agent, the attorney general declared, and made an offer that included their leaving the country for the price stated.

Paper Is Made From Refuse of Sugar Cane

The manufacture of paper from bagasse, the dry refuse of sugar cane after the juice has been expressed, has often been advocated, but never accomplished on a commercial scale. The increased cost of wood pulp has stimulated experiments for solving this problem. It has long been known that excellent paper can be made from sugar cane fiber, but the difficulty has been to preserve the fiber intact while extracting the juice for sugar making. The present machinery cuts and tears the fiber so that the bagasse is fit only for fuel.

Some time ago there was organized in Cuba a company which has constructed a large plant to make a practical test of a patented process for expressing the juice and conserving the fiber and pulp for paper. The fiber is separated from the pulp by machinery, and then by evaporation the water is eliminated, leaving the dry fiber and pulp containing the solids and sucrose, from which sugar is made. The fiber and pulp are then baled separately for shipment to the United States, where the sugar is extracted by diffusion.

By this treatment the fiber is uninjured and can be used in making high-grade paper at a considerable saving, as compared with the cost of wood pulp. The residue from the pulp is also suitable for low-grade paper. It is claimed that the preliminary tests have proved successful and that, in addition to preserving the bagasse for paper manufacture, a larger percentage of sucrose is obtained than is possible by the old methods of extraction in sugar houses.

"Hornbook" Used Before the Days of Printing

A hornbook was the alphabet-book or primer for learning to read in universal use in England before the days of printing, and common even down to the time of George II. It consisted of a single leaf set in an oak frame, covered with a thin sheet of transparent horn as a protection, whence its name. The leaf contained on one side the alphabet, in large and small letters, also the Lord's Prayer and the nine digits, together with a large number of monosyllables.

The frame had a handle, and this was generally provided with a hole for a string, by means of which the hornbook could be suspended from the pupil's girdle. The back of the frame was ornamented with a rude sketch of St. George and the dragon. Hornbooks are now very rare. Frequent allusions to them are found in the older writers.—Detroit News.

Young, but Gallant

Little Jackie took the church collection very seriously, and every Sunday morning he saw that his penny was ready.

One day, just as the sidesmen began to take the collection, Jackie noticed that a guest in the family pew was not duly provided.

Sliding along the seat he whispered: "Where's your penny?"

"I didn't bring one," replied the lady.

Time was short, and the matter was urgent, but Jackie came to a decision with great promptitude.

Thrusting his penny into the lady's hand, he whispered: "Here, take mine! I'll pay for you, and I'll get under the seat."

Charged the Camera

Once during an African hunt, says Mr. E. M. Newman in the American Magazine, a charging rhinoceros gave us some trouble. The rhinoceros being my party were thinking him, but being photographed seemed to bore him, and he headed directly for one of the cameras. The man, relying on the hunter who was with us, kept on turning, but the hunter did not fire quite soon enough. The rhinoceros crashed down dead on top of the camera. Fortunately, the camera man had jumped aside just in time.

The second man filmed the whole scene, and it made a great picture when we recovered the smashed camera from under the beast, saved that film and combined it with the other.

City of Capua

The city of Capua of ancient Italy opened its gates to Hannibal after the Battle of Cannae, 216 B. C., and the army there went into winter quarters. Capua was the most luxurious city in Italy, and Hannibal's army was greatly enervated as a result of its residence there. When the Romans regained possession of Capua, 211 B. C., they scourged and beheaded the surviving senators who had not poisoned themselves before the surrender of the city. Only two persons, it is said, escaped: one, a woman who had betrayed for the success of the Roman arms, and the other a woman who had harbored some prisoners. The word "Capua" became a synonym for luxury and self-indulgence.

Supreme

Knitted Suits Excel

For All Sports Wear

For adaptability to any sort of real sports wear nothing is quite equal to the knitted suit. Here is one, as chic as it is practical, that is made for a career of outdoor life—one can hardly think of a pastime that it will not serve well. It is made with a detachable, wrap-around skirt, comfortable and graceful sleeves that taper in to the wrist, and has knickerbockers to match.

LOVE OF LUXURY BLAMED BY JUDGE FOR BOYS CRIMES

Philadelphia, March 18.—Love of luxury, which has spread to the young and examples set by "movies" are chiefly to blame for the increasing seriousness of crimes for which boys are arrested today, according to Judge James E. Gorman, of the Juvenile Court here, who for ten years has been studying child criminology.

"Ten years ago," Judge Gorman declared, "most of the boys brought before me were arrested for some petty misdemeanor, such as stealing fruit or breaking windows, or tapping—all trifling offenses. Mischief, mischief, delinquency and truancy were the majority of the charges. Today there is an increasing seriousness of the crimes committed by boys. Automobile stealing is prevalent. Theft of a serious nature, burglary and the carrying of firearms are common charges brought against boys under sixteen years old."

"The most dangerous sign, in my opinion," he continued, "is the carrying of firearms. Only the other day a boy was brought before me for threatening his mother with a revolver. I don't remember any case ten years ago when a boy was caught with firearms."

"In part, the example of the 'movies' is to blame, but more so the general love of luxury that has spread to the young in these modern times. All the world is in a mad rush after pleasure. Naturally the boys have been affected by the craze. Most of the boys caught in crime come from poor families. They can't have spending money, so they go out and steal. Of course, the same was true ten years ago, but the pleasures then were much simpler, and naturally the means of getting them were not so serious."

Cases of boys being organized into gangs and schooled by some modern rackets, although rare, exist, Judge Gorman said.

COURT NEWS

Common Pleas Entries.

For failure to file petition and want of prosecution, Judge James G. Moore in common pleas court No. 1, Monday dismissed the case of Mrs. Floyd Shamp against John S. Gorman, carried up on an appeal from Justice of the peace court.

The case of John Griffin against Simon R. Miller was also dismissed at the costs of the plaintiff. This action was an appeal from a Justice of the Peace court.

For the same reason, the appeal case of Harry Bishop against Sarah Pearce was also dismissed from the records at the costs of the plaintiff.

A motion to set aside the judgment in the case of Owen Denver Todd against Frank Moore was withdrawn in common pleas court No. 1 Monday. On Feb. 25, the plaintiff secured a judgment against the defendant by default for $12.98 and plaintiff's costs.

Good Health In Happy Old Age

The chief concern of elderly people is their health, and that is best assured by regular daily bowel movement. There is no truth, however, in the notion that because you are old you need a "strong physic." In fact, just because you are old a mild laxative is better for you. The trouble with purges and cathartics and physics is that they shock the system and weaken it and make the muscles of digestion flabby. Dr. G. H. Brown, V. S., of Frederic, Wis., nearly wrecked his stomach with purgatives. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin restored his health, as it did Mrs. J. S. Etheridge's, of Milledgeville, Ga.

Does Not Gripe

You can be sure of satisfactory evacuations every day if you will take a spoonful of Syrup Pepsin at night when you retire. You will not need to take it very long as a few doses will soon encourage the bowels to act for themselves. The popularity of this wonderful family remedy has become so great that it is now the largest-selling liquid laxative in the world. Because of its mildness and freedom from griping it is especially ideal for the extremes of ages, for children and for elderly people.

Effective at Small Cost

Get a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at any drug store. The formula is on the package, and the cost less than a cent a dose. Take it when you feel heavy, sleep poorly, have headache or night cramps, for these are also symptoms of constipation. Give it to the children when they are restless, feverish or have a cold. Syrup Pepsin will keep you and the family free from constipation, a condition that lowers the vitality 25 per cent and raises the blood pressure 23 per cent. Freedom from constipation lessens the pain of kidney trouble, neuritis and rheumatism.

THINGS THAT NEVER HAPPEN

By GENE BYRNE

EVERY BUSINESS MAN'S GREATEST OBLIGATION

By WALTER W. HEAD
President American Bankers Association

We speak reverentially of "Our Country." What do we mean? Are we thinking of the service which we owe to our country, of the love which we bear for it, or are we thinking only of the protection which our country can afford us, only of the benefit which we may derive from it?

Are we thinking of what we may do for our country, or of what our country may do for us?

Our duty to ourselves and our country requires positive as well as negative action. We must be constructive. As citizens of our country, do we fulfill the obligations incumbent upon us? Do we exercise our right to vote—and when we do, do we always place intelligence, efficiency and patriotism in government ahead of every other consideration?

The message which I wish to emphasize is a simple truth, one easily understood, but one of great importance, perhaps more important today than ever before: We—I, as an individual—must be responsible for our government—my government.

We cannot delegate our responsibility in government to someone else. There is no substitute for individual interest in government and individual responsibility for government.

I have said to bankers that the greatest duty of the banker today is not to loan money, but to loan himself—to the service of his community.

DRIVER OF DEATH CAR THREATENED

Witnesses charged that Malzac, driving at a high speed, went around a trolley car on the wrong side, striking the little girl. Until the arrival of police he was in danger of violence at the hands of bystanders.

496 CASES LISTED FOR APRIL TERM

Filing Of New Cases Still Active, But Docket Is Being Cleared.

The bar docket for the April term of common pleas court was issued Tuesday morning by Clerk of Court John T. Harris. There are 496 cases listed for trial and hearing during the new term of court against 558 listed in the bar docket for the January term, and 614 cases listed in the last October term docket.

Filing of new cases is as active as ever, but the contention of Judge James G. Moore has been that old cases, which show no signs of life on either part of the plaintiff or defendant should not be permitted to remain on file, and this is why so many were dismissed for lack of prosecution during February.

The court has indicated to all attorneys that cases should not be permitted to lie dormant, and has asked the co-operation of the members of the bar in keeping old cases down to a minimum.

The number of divorce cases listed in the new docket is on a par with past issues.

Members of the bar will have the new bar docket in hand within the next few days, as they were to be issued Tuesday afternoon.

PLANES GET TEST

One of the huge ships and announced that the expedition would set out on the 5,508 mile trip to the Oregon City between 8 and 9 o'clock.

The commander of the air fleet stated that the flight from Santa Monica over the mountains to the city yesterday thoroughly tested the stability of the craft, as they were forced to fight heavy winds for more than half the trip.

"In view of the splendid manner in which the planes stood up on the initial trip, I am even more confident that the cruise will be a success," said Commander Martin.

"I do not labor under the false impression that the test will be easily accomplished, but I know it can be done. Whether we are successful depends upon us. The ships represent the nearest approach to perfection yet reached in aircraft construction."

Administration leaders asserted, on the other hand, that veto of the bill by President Coolidge was certain should it provide for a heavy cash. They claimed that 75 per cent there was some chance of the president approving the insurance policy plan.

DEMOCRATS CAN'T PICK THEIR MAN

DIVIDED ON NOMINATION OF CONSERVATIVE OR LIBERAL, WET OR DRY CANDIDATE.

By EDWARD B. CLARK

Washington. — Watching the steam of the Teapot is not a sufficiently engaging occupation to keep the minds of the Democrats in Washington from dwelling on the problem of the name of the man whom they should nominate for the presidency. A first line or two of an old household poem seems just now to fit the case:

"Which shall it be?"

I looked at John and John looked at me."

Certain it is that the Republicans are having trouble enough just at present, and naturally therefore they are not at all haphazard over difficulties which beset the Democracy. Senator Reed of Missouri is engaged almost daily in rapping away at William G. McAdoo of California, while other candidates for the nomination, or at any rate their friends, are saying not altogether pleasant things about one another.

This is a condition which always exists in any party prior to a national convention provided that party has more than one prominent candidate seeking first place recognition. The Democrats say it will be nothing but a love feast after the convention. So far as the Republicans are concerned, they seem to feel that even with the outpouring of some of the brethren who are not enamored of the Coolidge nomination idea, all likewise will be pleasant within their ranks after the convention has done its work.

Quandary of the Democrats.

However, Democratic leadership in Washington is interested seemingly to the worry point in the case of who is to be in the leading place in the campaign next summer. There are Oscar W. Underwood, William G. McAdoo, James M. Cox, Alfred E. Smith, Samuel M. Ralston, John W. Davis and some others whose personalities, policies and, if you will, persistencies, enter into the problem.

General appearances are that conservative Democrats generally would be satisfied with the nomination of Mr. Underwood, although, of course, conservatism looks kindly also on James M. Cox of Ohio. There are reasons, however, why it is possible that fear of policy complications may make the conservative strength exert itself elsewhere in the field of candidates, but, of course, this is only more or less guesswork.

Advocates of the Woodrow Wilson plan for world peace would like to see Mr. Cox nominated provided they thought he could get united Democratic support—but can Mr. Cox get it? It is said for him that he is the only Democratic candidate for the nomination who has had the courage to stand by the guns which he used, although to little purpose, in the campaign of nearly four years ago.

One hears and hears and hears daily of Samuel M. Ralston of Indiana and his fair chance of success in the New York convention next June. Probably the Indianan does not like to be looked at as merely a dark horse in the race. As a matter of truth, however, Mr. Ralston is keeping himself and his hopes, if he has any, very much in the dark, that is, in the modest retirement of a stable of retirement. Probably Mr. Ralston's chief regret today is that he was not born some six years later than the cold record shows to be the case. However, a good many prophets say undilutingly that Ralston is the man.

Split on Wet and Dry Issue.

One of the Democracy's chief troubles is said to be that one-half the leaders, and this means presumably one-half the followers, want a dry, and the other half of the leaders, and presumably the other half of the followers, want a wet. They can't have both a wet and a dry, and a compromise between wetness and dryness is one of the hardest things in the world to get. So far as this matter is concerned Mr. Underwood's friends say he is in the best position to command support. Smith, they assert, is hopelessly soaked, while the garments of any one on whom Mr. Bryan and his followers might look approvingly must be under dry inside of a moisture-proof mackintosh.

Out of the woods or from the plains somewhere there may come a convention nominee whose name thus far has not been so much as mentioned. This has happened before. In 1893 "Silver Dick" Bland would have been nominated by the Democratic convention in Chicago if the delegates had not been frightened away from his support by a rumor that a certain thing, not at all to Mr. Bland's discredit, might war against the chances of his election.

Then William Jennings Bryan made his speech and was given the crown which in a way proved to be one of thorns for him, and the rest is history. Some of the Democrats here in Washington believe that in a way history will repeat itself in New York next June, and that some man as yet hidden away in the fens or the forests will emerge from the dark into the light and be given the prize.

Vitality and Strength Follow This Advice

Cambridge, Ohio.—"As I look back I wonder how much sickness I could have avoided, had I known of and taken Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription when I first showed signs of nervousness and a decline in strength. I was willing to try anything that was suggested to me and did try many things, but none seemed to reach the seat of the trouble or do me any good. At last I heard of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, when my condition was very low, and its tonic strengthening effect was felt before the first bottle was entirely used, by increased strength and cheerfulness of spirits. I continued taking it until I had used six bottles, when there was no need for me to use it further, as I was a well woman."—Mrs. E. A. Stevens, 465 E. 8th St.

SHERIFFS TO ENFORCE DECREE

Politicians See Coalition of Democratic Elements Supporting Donahay and McAdoo—Women's Republican Clubs of Ohio to Conduct Training School—Special Session of Legislature Not Likely.

Columbus, March 11.—In accordance with orders that have been issued by Highway Director Boulay, the entire system of improved state roads, totaling 5,500 miles, is closed to heavy motor trucks until after the spring thaw and rains are over with. Notice has been sent by Director Boulay to all district state highway superintendents to "post" all state roads at once, closing them to the heavy truck traffic. The ban applies to all trucks that weigh more than seven and one-half tons, including their load.

Director Boulay's order was issued under the Burke act, which gives the highway director authority to close state roads and empowers county commissioners to act with regard to county roads. Sheriffs are responsible for enforcement of the ban after the roads are "posted" as closed to the heavy trucks.

Director Boulay and W. A. Alsdorf of Columbus, secretary of the Ohio Good Roads Federation, this week urged passage of the Bowell good roads bill in testimony before the house roads committee at Washington. This measure appropriates $100,000 a year for three years. Boulay opposed a provision in the measure which limits federal funds to $1,000 a mile on any road. He contended that was insufficient. Ohio, he said, in his opinion, will have to restore the half-mile road tax as the local surplus will not be sufficient.

In a statement issued by Ohio supporters of William G. McAdoo for the Democratic presidential nomination, a coalition is seen of the Democratic elements in Ohio supporting Governor Donahay for reelection with the men backing McAdoo. The recent meeting here and statement issued by the McAdoo men to the Democrats of Ohio were marked with bitter attacks on the national administration and opponents to the candidacy of McAdoo, including the organization behind former Governor James M. Cox.

The Cox organization was accused of causing the withdrawal of five candidates for delegates who were pledged to McAdoo. This same organization was called the chief enemy of Donahay's reelection.

Linking Donahay and McAdoo and working opponents of either or both, the statement said in part: "With A. Victor Donahay carrying the banner of the state high and unsullied, and William Gibbs McAdoo bearing the national banner with clean hands and a stout heart, Democracy has naught to fear from the hands that are reeking with graft, greed, crime, dishonor and selfishness."

David L. Rockwell, national manager for McAdoo, and William D. Williams of Cleveland, Ohio manager, met here with about 50 Ohioans who favor the former secretary of the treasury and drew up plans for the state campaign. Regular headquarters will be opened in Columbus with Hamilton DeWeese of Columbus as organization chairman. John T. Adams of Columbus will have charge of finances. Other officials are to be chosen.

Attorney General Crabbe, replying to charges of the state industrial commission that his department has been negligent in caring for claims for workmen's compensation left with him for settlement, declared that administration of the workmen's compensation law should not mean that the "last pound of flesh" should be exacted by the state.

One of the industrial commission's criticisms was directed against the attorney general for alleged failure to appeal the case in which the widow of Daniel Foley of Toledo was awarded $2,000 against the commission as a result of Foley's death. In his statement the attorney general said Attorney Frank Calkins, who represented the attorney general's office in defending the commission in the suit, had explained that he was called out of the city immediately after the trial and though he had left instructions for a motion for a new trial to be filed, the motion was not filed within the three days' limit.

The attorney general also pointed out that the chief medical officer of the industrial commission had recommended that the Foley claim be allowed.

Action on Governor Donahay's request for $25,000 to finance an investigation of the telephone situation in Ohio was deferred by the state emergency board. Commerce Director Leach, whom Donahay had instructed to get for the appropriation, was told by the board to submit a detailed budget of the way the appropriation would be expended.

Action on this request for an appropriation to eliminate "barrow pits" on state property at Buckeye Lake, and thereby improve sanitary conditions at the resort, was also deferred by the board.

Assistant Health Director Joseph Bauman and W. H. Dittus, chief sanitary engineer, presented the board of health department's program for eliminating unsanitary conditions at the lake resort. They were told that as soon as the public works department presents a survey record, showing where state property ends, appropriation will be made to provide for draining the pits this year. Lack of funds will not permit an appropriation at the present time for carrying out a proposed program of filling in the pits and low ground.

The state health department threatened some time ago to close the lake resort unless sanitary conditions are improved to eliminate menace of typhoid fever epidemic originating there.

It was announced by the executive committee of the Women's Republican club of Ohio that Buckeye Republican women will conduct a "political Plattsburg" at the Deshler hotel here beginning March 18. The "training camp" is the first of its kind to be held in the middle west and application blanks have come to the committee from more than 40 cities and towns of Ohio, it was said.

The school will consist of three days of intensive training in the fundamental principles of the Republican party, the fundamentals of the constitution, instruction in public speaking, organization work and other informative subjects.

Mrs. John Gordon Battelle, associate national committeeman from Ohio, has been the moving spirit in organizing this school, which is being sponsored by the educational committee of the Women's Republican club.

Mrs. Battelle, it is announced, will entertain the women in training at luncheon on Monday, March 17, in the Deshler ballroom. The training camp will close with a mass meeting Thursday evening, March 20, and Mrs. Raymond Robbins of Chicago, will be the principal speaker.

The state board of charities will investigate conditions at the Franklin county children's home despite the recent exoneration of the superintendent, J. J. Mullaney, by the home board of trustees and the county commissioners.

In announcing the investigation, Miss Belle Greve, head of the child welfare division, declared that she was not satisfied with the investigation made by the commissioners and trustees and intended to go ahead with the intention of "learning facts" through experts. The investigation, started when the county board of visitors made direct complaint to the state board, the commissioners, trustees and juvenile judge Bostwick, centers on charges of embezzlement preferred against Mullaney by children and employees at the home.

A series of conferences with the commissioners, board of visitors, juvenile authorities and trustees will begin the probe, Miss Greve said. She stated that the investigation would be largely to corroborate a report made to her by the board of trustees.

Gardner Lattimer, secretary of the board of county visitors, following a meeting of the board with Judge Bostwick, asserted that it was the visitors' opinion that the probe made by the trustees and commissioners was cursory and that the opinion of the investigators had been formed before action was taken. Lattimer expressed the board's wish that experts be put on the job and that no prejudice enter into the matter beforehand.

Despite the cry of the school districts for funds, legislative leaders are of the opinion there will be no reconvened session of the general assembly, unless Governor Donahay himself calls one. Several members have been attempting to induce the reconvening committee to issue the call, but the majority, knowing what will happen if they do come back in session, are agreed with the committee members in their determination to stay in recess.

Opponents of a special session state that if the legislature were to meet now it would be swamped with almost as many requests for important legislation as at the opening of a new general assembly. School districts would make their plea for money. Cities short of operating funds would demand relief by means of emergency tax legislation, and the Anti-Saloon league would demand provision for new prohibition enforcement agencies to replace the outlawed state "card" agents. Among other matters that would be presented would be the overcrowded conditions at the Ohio penitentiary, the state office building problem, "blue sky" law investigation, automobile insurance and a gasoline tax.

Former State Senator Thomas W. Latham of Monroeville, Huron county, will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor, according to a letter received by Secretary of State Brown, asking for blank declaration of candidacy. Latham represented the Thirtieth district in the senate in the Eighty-third general assembly, elected as a Republican. In 1920 he announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for governor, but withdrew before the primary.

WEATHER BUREAU USUALLY RIGHT

REMINISCENCES OF THE GREAT
STORM OF 1888 WHICH IT
PREDICTED ACCURATELY.

By EDWARD B. CLARK

Washington.—The records go to show that the United States weather bureau is right in its predictions 75 per cent of the time. It is true that people have a loose way of saying the weather bureau always is wrong, but such is not the case, for if it were there would be no weather bureau. It is inconceivable that congress would appropriate money to continue an institution that is valueless. It seems pretty generally believed by government officials to be a useful and accurate institution.

Spring is coming on. Some folks may think that the weather soon will become settled, but you never can tell. On March 12, thirty-six years ago, the year 1888 to be exact, the weather bureau made accurate prediction of the greatest storm which ever visited the New York and New England coastline. The blizzard was so terrific and was accompanied by such a loss of life and property that the anniversary is marked each year by editorials in the newspapers and by reminiscence news stories of its occurrence.

Roscoe Conkling, one-time United States senator from New York and several times a candidate for the Republican nomination for the presidency, died as a result of exposure to the blizzard of March, 1888. A number of New York residents met death while struggling to reach their homes through the howling storm which was so severe that all the surface and elevated railway cars were tied up and no cab could make its way through the streets.

Personal Experience in Blizzard.
The writer of this article was in the army at the time that the blizzard swept the East. He was stationed on David's Island off New Rochelle in Long Island Sound. The post is now called Fort Slocum. It was exposed to the full fury of the storm as it swept along the sound from the open ocean. The island is low-lying and without any protection from the elements.

At 10 o'clock on the night of March 11, 1888, the sky over Long Island Sound was unclouded and there was not a whisper over the waters. At 10:30 black clouds had banked up and were shaking out their burden of snow, while the wind which had sprung to its full strength of ninety miles an hour almost without warning was roaring in from the broad Atlantic.

At 1 o'clock in the morning the first guard relief was ordered out to relieve the men on post. The writer was in command of the relief. No man who was on that island that night has in the range of his vocabulary words to describe adequately the awful fury of that eastern storm. The combined thunders of twenty Alpine storms could not equal the noise of the roaring of the waves as they pounded the shore and of the howling of the winds.

A word shouted into the ear of a sentinel barely was audible. The relief started from the guardhouse. While under the shelter of the building the men were ordered to unfix bayonets, to come to a "secure arms" and to clasp hands. This was the only way in which they could make progress together.

In the Storm's Fury.
The relief passed out into the teeth of the storm. It was by the hand clasp only that one could tell he had companions. All sense of direction speedily was lost and it was only by the sense of touch with buildings on to which the relief blundered that a course could be set.

The David Island's hospital stood at the extreme east end of the island. Back of it along the stretch of beach ran a sentry post. That night the lashing fury of the waves mainly was spent on that lonely sentry post. All the members of the relief but one were ordered to shelter themselves under the piazza of the hospital while with the one man who was to relieve the sentinel on the beach the writer of this, who was in command of the outfit, sought to find the sentinel who was to be taken off post.

The blast from the sound was so terrific in its force that progress could be made only upon the hands and knees. Along the storm-lashed shore the two made their way. The sentinel finally was found. He had found some little shelter, but he had nearly perished when his comrade relieved him.

At Fort Slocum today the terrors of the storm of thirty-six years ago are traditional among the soldiers. Non-commissioned officers from time to time have been stationed for years at a stretch on David's Island, which is a recruiting rendezvous for the service. The stories of the storm have come down and today they are told to the recruits.

A Wide Awake Scout

Boy scout enthusiasm in advancement in rank reached a high point in the recent case of a member of Troop 13, Honolulu, when the lad awakened his scoutmaster at 2 a. m. on a recent week-end like to pass his cooking test. When asked by the leader why he had to pass a test so early in the day, the scout answered that he simply could not sleep without passing his test.

California Children See First White Deer

San Francisco, March 15.—Presenting a picture familiar to the heart of every child who has read Grimm's fairy tales, two white deer, the first ever seen in California, have arrived here from Nicaragua.

Juan B. Molina, owner of a big plantation at Esteli, Nicaragua, brought the white deer here as a gift to his son from the only herd of its kind in the world.

Molina set out 20 years ago to breed the animal. He crossed the lightest colored animals he could find, and eventually a pure white deer was produced. He continued with his experiment until he had a fixed breed. In his herd of white deer the fawns all come true to type now.

Molina's son plans to present the two albino deer, a buck and a doe, to one of San Francisco's parks.

vertically through the horn. They are then reflected from the sides of the right pyramid, down and outwards, striking the surface of the table upon which the reproducer is placed. To give the reproducer the advantages of a solid horn, all hollow spaces were filled with a mixture of melted pitch and sawdust before setting into place. The appearance of the finished article is greatly increased after the customary finishing of all wood work, by placing between the four uprights sheets of white celluloid. With a fine fret saw, the pattern was cut (before setting in position) and colored paper mounted on the back to improve the appearance. As places in this celluloid sheet showed a tendency to vibrate at certain audible frequencies, small pieces of celluloid were cemented on the backs of these portions.

This reproducer which may be small in size can find a fitting place anywhere in the room. There is very little distortion of speech or music and the music is right there in the room and not at the end of a long hall.—Radio News.

Easy Way to Eliminate Body Capacity Effect

Body capacity effect can be eliminated by using an 8-inch length of a celluloid knitting needle placed in a 5-32-inch hole drilled in the dial knobs in the manner illustrated. It is easy to turn the knobs by this method.

Copper-Clad Steel Wire May Be Used for Aerial

Current that is direct, or alternating current of low frequency, will flow through the entire cross section of a wire, and with such currents solid wire is an advantage. As the frequency of all alternating current increases, the current tends to leave the core of the conductor and travel nearer the surface, so when alternations or oscillations of a radio frequency are reached, the current barely penetrates the surface. For this reason stranded wire and "Litzendraht" are used for aerials, making connections and winding coils—they present more surface than would a round solid wire of the same diameter. And copper-clad steel wire may be used for aerials, with no appreciable loss in conductivity.

Only Way to Obtain Well-Soldered Joints

Remember that a well-soldered joint can be obtained only if all the surfaces to be soldered and the iron used are absolutely clean. Brush off the hot iron with a rag before touching the solder to it. Brush quickly and lightly so that the rag does not catch fire. Rub all dust and dirt off the surface to be soldered. Be sure to wipe the soldered joint well with a rag dipped in alcohol as soon as the solder is cold. This removes the soldering flux and prevents possible corrosion. But keep fire away from the soldering operation.

Ask Advice Before Buying Radio Outfit

It would be well for a person having little technical knowledge on the subject of radio to get the advice of some experienced friend before making a purchase of apparatus. Or, if this is not possible, to buy only apparatus made by companies having a recognized standing in the field and whose engineers are capable of giving the best in design. This would result in a saving of both patience and money and give increased all-round satisfaction.

Tune Out If Radio Offends, Advice To Complainants

Chicago, March 15.—Is radio a law-exempt publicity agency? Has the "invisible audience" any recourse if suggestive of obscene stories are broadcast?

Is "libel or slander in the air" punishable under the same code that obtains in the case of written documents or articles? These questions, new legal aspects of radio broadcasting, have been raised here by a flood of complaints, mainly from ministers, that sermons broadcast by Wilbur Glenn Voliva, head of the "Christian Apostolic Church of Zion," from his Zion station are "unfit for anyone to hear—shocking and bordering on obscenity."

Edward A. Egan, United States Radio Broadcasting Supervisor here, believes those listening in have but one recourse if they feel their modesty is being shocked—that is to "tune out" the offending station.

New Waterford May Pave Palestine Road

Inasmuch as Fairfield township trustees will be unable to extend aid on the improvement of the New Waterford-East Palestine rd until next year, the village of New Waterford may go ahead and improve a part of the highway within the municipal limits.

The people of New Waterford have supported a $20,000 road bond issue and a number of improvement are proposed for the current year.

Unity township trustees have agreed to do their share in improving this highway, which is known as the "Rumtown" rd. so far as it had to do with Unity township.

Fairfield township trustees were not before the commissioners Monday on this road project, and it has been said by them that their attention this year is directed toward the improvement of the East Liverpool-Youngstown rd. in that township, so an improved highway can be had south through the township from the Cox highway.

"There is no legal filter for the purification of radio broadcasting," he told the complainants in the Zion case. "There's nothing I can do. Radio laws are still in their infancy. They are as yet vague and incomplete. There is no statute available that I know of that could be invoked."

Chicago lawyers, however, who since the rapid growth of radio broadcasting, have envisioned legal clashes in the offing, are not so sure.

It is certain, they say, that the same libel and slander laws which apply to newspapers and other publicity agencies could be invoked against a radio broadcasting station. The absence of the written instrument, conclusive proof in cases of suits against newspapers, is more than offset, they say, by the number of disinterested persons who could be summoned as witnesses to the libelous statement.

Why, then, they ask, couldn't a station which broadcast anything attending public morals be prosecuted under the common law by proclaiming it a public nuisance? Of fences against public morals often are committed by individuals, they pointed out, and such individuals are arrested, presented and often are convicted. Law that can apply in one case can apply in another, they say, and while a radio case of this nature never has been tried, the majority expressed little doubt that, if concrete evidence of obscenity could be shown, the station could be closed and its owners fined or imprisoned.
